New and Improved Message for Receiving WiFi Translation at LSM Conferences and Trainings

Living Stream Ministry is now offering a new form of wireless audio translation via Bluetooth broadcast, called Auracast™. Instead of the traditional one-to-one pairing of classic Bluetooth, Auracast allows an unlimited number of compatible receivers to connect simultaneously. No pairing is required.

Auracast is superior to FM radio and ListenWiFi. It doesn't compete with commercial radio stations, requires no Wi-Fi, and supports an unlimited number of connections. Initially, Living Stream Ministry will offer Auracast translation for English, Chinese, Spanish, Korean, Portuguese, and Russian.

To use the Auracast transmission, an Auracast-enabled headphone/receiver is required. The following is a list of compatible devices, categorized by type.
